Plan Halloween Jamboree For School Children

7th Annual Event Sponsored by School and Antioch Theatre

Antioch youngsters of the grade school and pre-school age children will enjoy their regular Halloween jamboree again this year, Principal Ralph E. Clabaugh of the grade school announced today.

Tentative plans for the event next Thursday night will include the usual march of children from the school to the Antioch theatre where they will see the feature picture, "Seventeen," and where selected judges will award prizes for the best costumes worn by the children.

The jamboree was inaugurated seven years ago as a holiday event on Halloween night for the younger children of the community. Last year over 200 children took part in the parade.

The use of the theatre and the picture (free to the children) is the gift of F. B. Swanson, theatre manager; while Mr. Clabaugh and the grade school teachers are lending their services in arranging the details of the parade.

Mrs. Alice Kate McBride, who had been in poor health for a number of years, passed away at her home on North Main street Saturday, aged 74. Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock in the Strang Funeral Home, with the Rev. Loyal V. Sittler of Waukegan officiating.

Burial was in Hillside cemetery. Mrs. McBride, who was born in Clinton, Ill., had been a resident of Antioch for the past 22 years.

She is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Kenneth Hampton of Antioch, and a son, Earl McBride of Great Neck, N. Y.

Her husband, John, preceded her in death four years ago.

Father of Bob Hardman Dies in Auto Accident

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Hardman of Hardman's resort on Bluff lake were shocked to hear of the death of Mr. Hardman's father J. R. Hardman, 72, in an automobile accident Sunday evening at 7 o'clock near Atlanta, Ga.

Mr. and Mrs. Hardman left at once for Atlanta.

Funeral services were held Tuesday.

Wendell Willkie
says:

I am not interested in the support of anybody who stands for any form of prejudice as to anybody's race or religion, or who is in support of any foreign economic or political philosophy in this country.

The true liberal is as much opposed to excessive concentration of powers in the hands of government as to excessive concentration in the hands of business. In other words, he maintains his freedom against all comers.

Unfortunately, because government rarely relinquishes a power which it has once obtained, the emergency character of depression measures was shortly disregarded: the government embarked upon vast continuing expenditure programs designed not to promote private enterprise but to promote direct financial and economic activity by the government.

Junior "Safety Patrol" Formed at Grade School

Seventh and Eighth Grade Boys Help Youngsters Come, Go, Safely

Now in its second day of service, the Junior Safety Patrol which has been formed at Antioch Grade school promises to be a valuable safety aid for grade school children of the village.

The patrol is made up of boys of the seventh and eighth grades. The official belts they wear while on duty, the safety regulations they follow and the certificates which permit their acting as patrol members are furnished through the courtesy of the Chicago Motor club, long a sponsor of juvenile safety work.

The boys engaged in the patrol work are divided into "shifts," serving when the children are coming to school in the morning, when they go home at noon and again when they return, and when they leave in the afternoon.

Do Not Leave Curb Two are stationed at the corner of Main and Depot streets by the school, one at Orchard and Main, two along Main between Orchard and Lake, and two at the corner of Main and Lake.

The boys do not leave the curb, except to assist younger children across the street, and they do not attempt to regulate traffic.

Traffic at the school corner is regulated by Marshal William Thiemann while the children are arriving or leaving.

Antioch Teams High in Grain, Poultry Judging Contests

Both the Antioch High School Grain and Poultry Judging teams placed in third position in their respective divisions at the Sectional Judging contest held at Harvard, Ill., last Saturday.

Twelve schools competed. Antioch was one point behind the second placing in grain and three points behind the second placing in poultry. Wayne Drom and Milton Smith placed 4th and 5th respectively as individuals among the sixty boys competing. Other members of the Antioch Poultry team are William Dow, Melvin Haney and Gerald Marrs.

Joe Carney placed fourth as an individual in grain judging among sixty boys. Others on the grain team from Antioch are Ed McNamara, Elmer Hartnell, John Kiehlbach and Ted Carlson.

C. L. Kutil, Vocational Agriculture instructor, accompanied the teams to Harvard.

Home Budgets Stressed by Accountancy School Head

Practical suggestions on home budgets and on investments were given by W. B. Castenholz at a dinner meeting of the Men's Civic club Monday evening at the Ball hotel.

Castenholz, president and general educational director of the Accountancy Training Institute, Inc., and formerly associated with Armour Institute, stressed the necessity for family budgets.

He was heard with close attention throughout the talk, which followed the serving of a 7 o'clock dinner.

A branch of the Accountancy Training Institute was recently organized in Antioch.

Secret Deals of the New Deal Aid Republican Cause

Anti-Third Term Sentiment Gaining, Declares Chairman Marks

Anti-third term sentiment and fear that Roosevelt will plunge the nation into war upon re-election caused a rush to the Republican standard-bearers in all sections of Lake county this week.

"There has been an unprecedented wave of volunteer workers everywhere," said William M. Marks, chairman of the Lake County Republican Central committee. "Reports throughout the entire state indicate that sentiment is definitely leaning to the Republican party."

Marks reported that precinct canvasses show another gain for the Republican party in Lake county. He urges an even larger gain in order to counteract heavy "New Deal" wards in Chicago, where election frauds have been uncovered.

Unlike other campaigns, no outstanding rally has been undertaken by the Republicans in the county. Instead the trend has been to smaller group meetings and neighborhood radio parties to hear Wendell L. Willkie, Dwight H. Green, Wayland Brooks and other prominent foes of the third term.

Two countywide events, however, have been scheduled with a dance at the Waukegan Roller rink Saturday night (Oct. 26) and the march of Lake County Veterans Wednesday night, Oct. 30 to the Waukegan Legion Home.

Conscription of 14,633 Lake County boys last week brought another boost in the Republican supporters, mainly on the promises of Willkie, Green, Brooks and other Republicans to keep the boys from fighting on foreign shores. The draft and secret deals between President Roosevelt and foreign nations have caused mothers to fear a repetition of the broken Democratic promise of President Woodrow Wilson prior to the entrance of the United States in the last World War when he was re-elected on the platform of "He kept us out of war."

H. S. Homecoming Is "Lots of Fun" for Young Folks

Loss of Game to Barrington Fails to Dampen Enthusiasm

Antioch high school's first "Homecoming" football game in seven years drew a remarkable outburst of enthusiasm, not only on the part of the younger people, but of the older ones as well. Even the loss of the game to the strong Barrington High school eleven, 20-0, Saturday afternoon failed to dampen the community's general enjoyment of the affair.

A "pep meeting" was held around a bonfire Friday evening in the village park, with coaches and cheer leaders present.

The Junior Legion drum corps, Boy Scouts and others, as well as high school students, took part in a parade down Main street before the game. A dance in the high school auditorium in the evening completed the day's program.

While the "fighting Sequoits" yielded three touchdowns to the heavier Barrington aggregation, their performance was praised by Coach R. H. Childers as "highly promising."

Played Spirited Game

Antioch played a spirited game with Jim Harvey, George Sterbenz and Jim Roepnack carrying the brunt of the game. The visitors were too heavy for Antioch's light line which forced the Sequoits to use end runs and a passing attack. On two different occasions touch down passes were missed by inches which if caught would have changed the outcome of the game. At another time Jim Harvey got away for a long run only to be caught from behind when going for a touchdown.

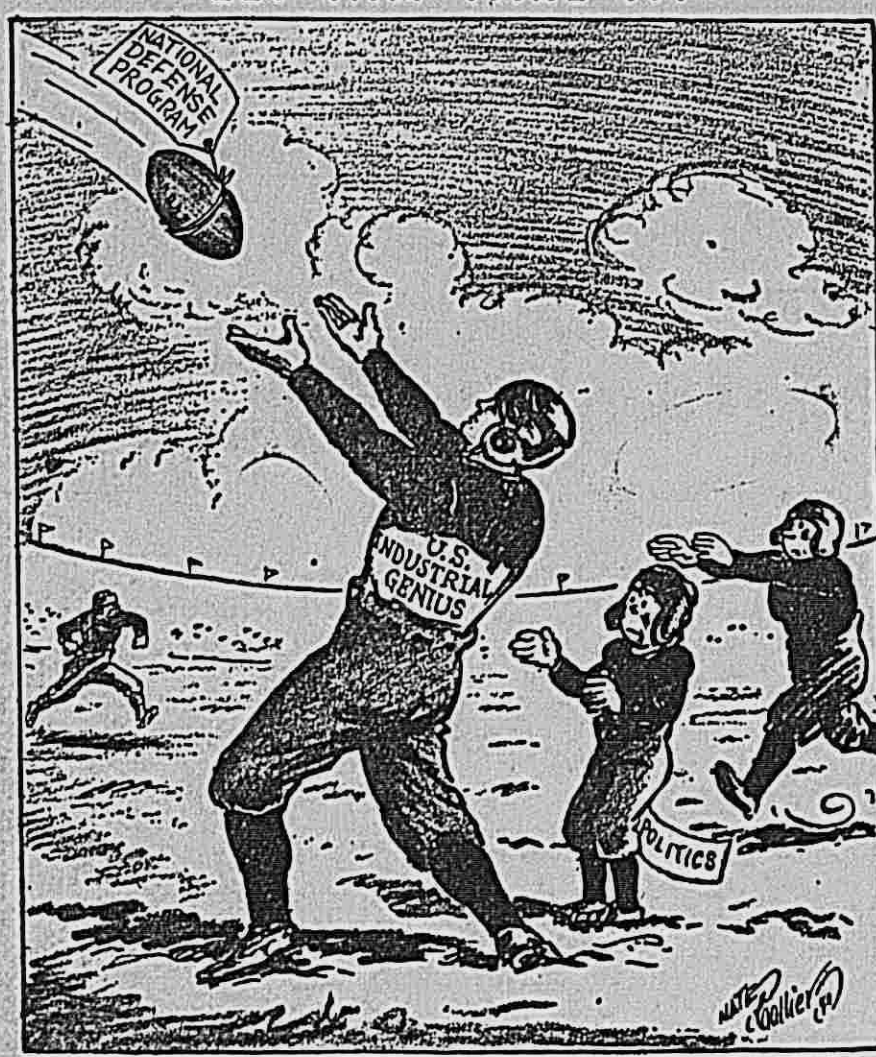

The local boys showed up well for it being the first year of football over a lapse of seven years. Most of the boys on the team are juniors and a good team is in the making for next season.

In the other conference game, Northbrook defeated Grant of Fox Lake, 20 to 0.

Antioch's next game will be with Grant at Fox Lake Nov. 2.

W. C. Petty, Lake county superintendent of schools, who has been ill at Victory Memorial hospital in Waukegan for the past week, is reported to be improving.

LET HIM TAKE IT!

Boyer Is Honored at Johns-Manville Dinner

Daniel S. Boyer of Antioch was honored Monday night at a dinner celebrating his 25th year with Johns-Manville. About 125 of his associates and friends were present at the dinner held at "Chateau du Jour" in Waukegan.

L. C. Hart, vice president of the company, presented Mr. Boyer a gold watch, emblematic of his membership in the Quarter Century Club—an honor organization of veterans who have been with Johns-Manville 25 years or more. Mr. Boyer is a building materials salesman for the company, and has as wide an acquaintance among the men of the lumber and building material industry throughout the middle west as any man.

During the past several years Mr. Boyer has concentrated his activities in the northeastern Illinois territory, and just recently moved into a new home which he erected in Antioch. Mr. Boyer is a member of the Elks. He is 55 years old, is married and has two children.

LAKE VILLA TO STAGE BIG HALLOWEEN PARTY

Lions Club, Schools and Teachers Sponsors of Event Oct. 30

Under the combined sponsorship of the Lake Villa Lions Club, teachers of Lake Villa school headed by Principal Clayton Bartlett, and teachers of rural schools in the township, a Halloween party is to be given for children on Wednesday night, October 30 in the Lake Villa school gymnasium. The committee is also receiving the support of merchants and is being assisted by Rev. MacArthur of the Lake Villa church. Rural schools participating in the event include: Monaville, Sand Lake, Cedar Lake and Oakland.

According to plans announced today by Charles A. "Chick" Anderson, committee member from the Lake Villa Lions club, the evening's program in the gym will include games, souvenirs, the awarding of prizes, and the serving of refreshments. All children of the township, as well as grownups, are invited to attend. The program is to start at 7:30 o'clock.

Mild "Building Boom" Taking Place in Village

Construction and Re-Modeling Carried on by Several Concerns

Latest of the re-modeling and construction projects which have created the appearance of a mild "building boom" in Antioch will be the installation of a new front on the MariAnne shop and Dalgaard's grocery, in the Brogan building on Main street.

Work is progressing rapidly on the new home of the R. and H. Chevrolet garage, at the north end of the village's main business section, next to the fire station. This building, which will be of brick and tile, will be one story in height in front, with a lower story for storage space at the back.

The Hart building, which has been used for automobile storage and painting jobs in the past, will continue to be used for these purposes. Show rooms and offices will be in the new building, which will probably be finished within the next three or four weeks. Repair jobs also will be carried on there. The company has already vacated its former show rooms and office space in the building it formerly occupied, and is temporarily using the Hart building for office space.

Bowling Alleys Planned Louis Bauer, manager of the Snow White Ice Cream company, is taking a lease on the former R. & H. office quarters, which he is planning to re-model into bowling alleys.

Bauer hopes to have the alleys in readiness for use by the first of December, he states. A number of women's and men's groups have already asked to have time reserved for team bowling as soon as the alleys, of which six are to be installed, are completed.

The Antioch Milling company this week moved into its newly completed brick office and elevator building, on the site of the old frame building which was badly damaged by fire last spring and was later razed as a fire hazard.

Pickard's Inc., are planning to start extensive re-modeling and enlarging work on their chinaware plant.

Building permits issued recently by Village Clerk Roy L. Murrie include the following:

Oct. 15, Dudley Kennedy, repairs to house; Sept. 21, James Webb, new house; Sept. 10, Arthur Bock, repairs to house, and Mount Hatchery, addition to buildings; Sept. 8, R. & H. Chevrolet, for new garage building.

Other permits during the past few months are:

Aug. 24, Mrs. Blanche Audry, repairs and alterations to old Haynes house on Park avenue; Aug. 15, Antioch Milling company for new building; Aug. 12, Dr. G. W. Jensen, garage; Aug. 2, Frank Powles, shingling roof; June 19, Williams Bros., alterations; June 7, Lakes theatre, alterations; May 29, Dan Boyer; May 10, National Tea company; May 6, Antioch Milling company, storage building; Ed Vos, repairs.

Barrington Church Passes Century Mark

Completing the century celebration of Barrington Methodist church was a "Hundredth Anniversary" dinner held Wednesday evening. The celebration opened with special services at the church Sunday.

Committees for Year Named by Fire Department

Fire Prevention Week Reports Show Improvement at Schools

L. D. Powles, retiring president of the Antioch fire department, turned over the gavel to Clete Vos, the newly elected president, at a meeting Tuesday evening in the fire station.

Vos announced that the following committees have been appointed for the coming year:

Audit and Finance

Ways and Means
L. D. Powles, Howard Strang, George Garland.

Entertainment
Walter Scott, Herman Holbeck, Jim McMillen.

Resolutions
C. B. Shultis, Elmer Hunter, Dudley Kennedy.

Publicity
John Horan, Einar Peterson, C. E. Hennings.

Praise Co-operation

A report on the general inspection made during fire prevention week was outlined by Inspector John Horan, covering schools and business places in the mercantile section.

Fire Chief James Stearns and the firemen reported that they were pleased with the splendid co-operation in the business section in regard to fire hazards. Both schools have shown improvements. An important issue being discussed is the new parking arrangements where cars are parked away from the buildings.

The entertainment committee will this week confer with George Wagner of the Antioch mill, and Elmer Renter of the R. & H. Chevrolet garage for dates of the holding of dedication programs for their new fireproof buildings.

Antioch delegates will attend the first fall meeting of the Lake County Firemen's association at Lake Zurich, Monday.

Farm Speaker Will Address Democrats in Rally Here Sat.

Rep. Bolger Also to Attend Big Pow-wow at Antioch High School

A big Democratic rally to be held at Antioch High school this Saturday night, Oct. 26, will feature an address by John Ascheon, of Sandwich, Ill., a prominent speaker on agricultural topics, it was announced by members of the Lake County Democratic Central committee.

Also slated as speaker for the rally planned to include the northern townships of the county, is Representative Tom Bolger of McHenry, and all of the Democratic county candidates will be introduced. Refreshments will be served and there will be a good orchestra to furnish music for old time and modern dancing.

The affair is in charge of a committee from the county committee, including Charles Cernak, Jr., local committeeman, who was recently appointed a state deputy game warden. Cernak was formerly in the employ of the state highway department as patrolman.

Victim of Lake Michigan Accident is Buried Here

Funeral services were held in the Strang home Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock for Arthur Larsen, 35, of North Chicago, who was drowned in Lake Michigan off the Johns-Manville crib Saturday when their boat capsized in rough water while they were duck hunting. Lester Anderson, 28, of Gurnee, also lost his life. A companion, George Cederna, was rescued through the heroic efforts of Robert L. Pavaglio, 18, after Cederna had struggled to keep afloat in the icy waters for 15 minutes.

Larsen is survived by his wife, Helen, and five children, Dorothy, Mildred, Robert, Maryann and Glen Franklin. A son, Arthur, Jr., died July 2.

Larsen was born in Antioch in 1905. He had lived in North Chicago for nine years and in Highland Park previously. He was employed in the maintenance department at Johns-Manville.

Burial was in Hillside cemetery.

NO THIRD TERM!

Charitable Mr. Willkie

Wendell Willkie is a charitable man. He says he does not think the Third Term Candidate knows he is leading the country toward totalitarianism—that FDR does not really want to be dictator. Well, that's fine. Willkie—a most magnanimous spirit. But the Antioch News believes quite differently. It believes the President wants to be the boss—the absolute boss of this country. The only difference between FDR and the full-fledged dictators is that the dictators KNOW what they want to do and how to do it, whereas all FDR wants right now is to remain in office—at any cost—even war! What's billions of Americans' dollars and thousands of American lives to the glory of a third term—the first third term in the history of the United States?

That "Don't change horses in the middle of the stream" slogan is doomed to an inglorious death in November. Too many voters know that any horse that can't cross a stream in seven years is fit bait for the boneyard.

Incidentally, the News has made a wager that the New Deal candidate will sever diplomatic relations with Japan, or Germany, or both, before Nov. 5. Maybe that would get a third term for the New Deal—any way they would rely on the voters to decide they would need FDR just to see the war through. If that happens, everything will be through for American liberties as we have known them.

Politicians' Meat

Private utility companies have shown an apparent willingness to undertake the expansion of generating capacity which will be required by the rearmament program. That is the consensus among government officials who have been working on the electric power aspect of the national defense program.

That will not be surprising news to those who know anything about the history of the light and power industry in this country. Since its beginning, it has been one of the most progressive of industries. It policy has been to build far ahead of demand—to be ready for any conceivable emergency. The holding company came into being as part of the plan—an integrated system, with central management and control, can give far more dependable service than a single, isolated unit.

Why hasn't the utility industry been expanding in late years as it did in the 'twenties and before? There is a very simple answer expressed in one word—politics. For many years the private utilities have been the politicians' meat. The government has built great tax-subsidized, tax-free competing systems. It has made loans and gifts to towns to build duplicate, unnecessary municipal distribution lines and generating plants. The utilities, in short, have been persecuted to the limit.

Under those circumstances, the industry could do little save mark time. Instead of spending a billion dollars a year on new construction, it spent only two or three hundred million. Investors turned to other enterprises, where the political factor was not so important. A persecuted business is never a growing business.

Now government officials are looking to the utilities to once more go ahead under full steam. It is a fine testimonial to the industry that it is planning to do just that, despite the shameful political beating to which it has so long been subjected.

Why Roosevelt Won't Do

President Roosevelt is not qualified to lead the Nation in war or in preparations for a possible war, because: He is temperamentally unfitted for such responsibility.

He is incapable of delegating authority or sharing credit.

He places in position of command anonymous theorists, accountable only to the Executive.

He is inclined to make unconsidered judgments for spectacular effect.

He has no respect for campaign promises or party pledges.

He has brought the Nation to the brink of bankruptcy through mismanagement of Federal finances.

He is responsible for paralyzing private investment.

He has instituted bureaucratic control of business that has prevented industrial recovery and re-employment.

He has distributed billions in subsidies in vain attempts to circumvent natural economic laws.

He has created destructive class antagonisms through general indictments for crimes of the few.

He has more than doubled the cost of the government.

He has more than doubled the public debt.

He has established a chronic budget deficit of nearly 4 billion dollars a year.

He has expended seven billion dollars for national defense and the nation is almost wholly unprepared.

He now proposes with the expenditure of a few more billions to make the Nation secure.

He must be fully aware that the sum asked for defense is but a drop in the bucket; many billions will be required if the Army and Navy are to be thoroughly equipped.

He conceals the fact, but must assuredly know, that he is heading the Nation into a Federal Budget of 15 billion dollars or more.

Ten million unemployed in the United States—more than are engaged in war in Europe!

Now that there's need of billions for defense, some of the billions squandered by the New Deal would come handy.

Lost, strayed or mislaid—$6,000,000,000 spent for defense in the last 7 years.

This country can't stand both the New Deal and war.

The United States hasn't four columns yet to march against the foe, but its fifth column is on the job, boring within at Washington.

Another reason why Americans hate war—it's being used as an alibi for the New Deal flop.

Anybody can throw away money during a war, but it takes a genius to get rid of it as fast as the New Deal is doing it in peace-time.

Hitler needn't make war on this country—a third term will do the job.

Uncooked Greens

The human appetite for green foods appears to reach its peak in the spring. According to dietitians, more of the vital food elements greens contain are retained by the body if such foods are served uncooked. Cress (either water or land), lettuce, endive and so on are delicious when served raw with mayonnaise, French dressing or a hot vinegar sauce.

CHRISTIAN MOTIVES FOR ABSTINENCE

LESSON TEXT—Luke 1:13-16; 2:40; 4:4; 6:21, 23, 43-45.
GOLDEN TEXT—For the kingdom of God is not meat and drink; but righteousness, and peace, and joy in the Holy Ghost.—Romans 14:17.

Life is our most precious possession. No intelligent person will waste its fleeting moments, nor defer to a later season the living of his life to the best advantage. We live now—today.

Nor is any thoughtful one ready to let life slip by without its finest and richest return of usefulness and blessing, not only to himself, but to others. International Temperance Sunday affords us an opportunity to show our young people that those who indulge in intoxicants cannot live such a life.

We suggest that a satisfying life is I. Useful (Luke 1:13-16).

John was to be born into a life of such blessed usefulness to God and man that he was to be a "joy and gladness" to his parents, "great in the sight of the Lord," and instrumental in turning "many of the children of Israel . . . to the Lord."

Such a life is worthy of emulation on the part of every young man and woman. What is the secret of it? Undoubtedly, fine Christian parentage had much to do with it. We note that God began preparing this great character a generation before he was born. Other elements also entered in, such as rearing and training, but most important of all was the fact (v. 15) that he was not to be driven by the false stimulants of this world, but by the infilling of the Holy Spirit of God. No "wine nor strong drink," but being "filled with the Holy Ghost"—there, young people, is the secret of a happy and useful life.

II. Normal (Luke 2:40). These words stress the fact that Jesus developed normally—physically, mentally, and spiritually. Let us emphasize the need of letting children develop and grow normally, for we live in a day of constant high pressure, when even the life of a child is not permitted to grow in its God-intended peace and according to the normal processes of nature. Give your boys and girls time, and encourage them to grow normally.

Obviously, the use of strong drink can only hinder, make abnormal, or destroy such normal growth. Let's rule it out altogether and let our people grow and wax strong in the Lord.

III. Well-Balanced (4:4; 6:21, 25). Making a life is more important than making a living. The bread of this world is not enough; we must have the satisfying portion of fellowship with God. This we find in His Word. Nothing material, social or mental will fully satisfy the soul of man. His heart cries out for a message from God.

Intoxicants make men to laugh when they ought to weep, give them a false satisfaction which is followed by an inexpressible hunger. They are unbalanced individuals.

Why not be among those who, knowing God and His Word, are intelligent enough to laugh at the right time, weep at the right time, and who know how to choose that which truly satisfies for time and eternity.

IV. Fundamentally Right (6:43-45). There is a false optimism which would have us think we can sow to the wind and avoid reaping the whirlwind. Men are encouraged to think they can waste their time and their substance, taking into their bodies the destructive elements of intoxicating liquors, and somehow come out all right. Young people are lured by clever advertising to think it is socially correct and smart to indulge, and that there will be no evil effects. Such an obvious falsehood should not fool any keen young man or woman.

The roots of an evil life bring forth corruption, for the heart of a man who follows after sin cannot bring forth that which is good. The kind of a person you are in your heart, the things you do when no one sees, the seeds you sow in indulgent and profligate living—these determine character and destiny for time and eternity.

Just so, fine, noble and upright thoughts and actions will bring forth gloriously fine and useful lives—a delight to God and man—well-balanced—normally developed—not only without a regret at the end of life's road, but finding there God's approval.

He Did

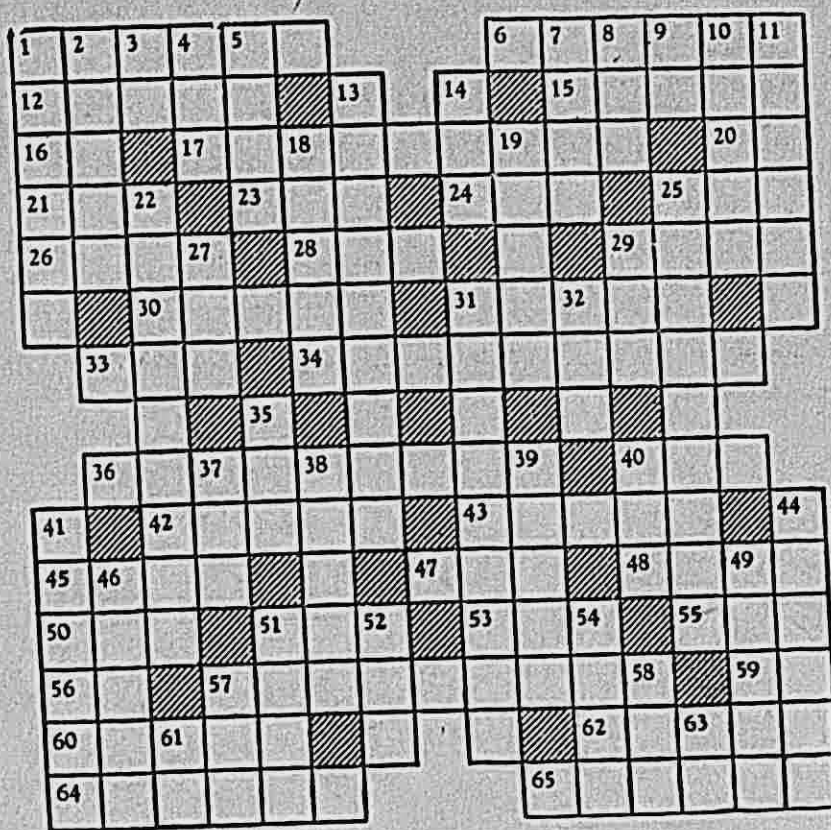

Then the king commanded, and they brought Daniel, and cast him into the den of lions. Now the king spake and said unto Daniel, Thy God whom thou servest continually, he will deliver thee.—Daniel 6:16.

Think It Over

For what is a man profited if he shall gain the whole world and lose his own soul; or what shall a man give in exchange for his soul.—Matt. 16:26.

Control of Boxelder Bug Explained in Govt. Report

For residents of Antioch and surrounding communities who may have been bothered by invasions of Boxelder bugs in the fall, Fred J. Berg passes on the following hints secured from the United States department of agriculture's entomology bureau:

The boxelder bug feeds principally on boxelder trees (ashleaf maple) during the summer, sucking the juices from the leaves and seeds. It has also been observed occasionally on maple and ash, and when extremely numerous may feed to some extent on the developing fruit of fruit trees and on other plants. By fall the insects are full grown and begin to seek sheltered or warm places to spend the winter. This is the reason for their appearance around houses and other buildings, and they are often found congregated in large numbers on warm exposures. While the insects do no damage and are harmless at this time, they frequently find their way into buildings and become very annoying because of their presence. In the spring they leave their places of hibernation and fly to the boxelder trees where they deposit their eggs, thus starting a new generation.

There are several measures that might be employed to reduce the abundance of the boxelder bug. Advantage may be taken of the habit which the insects have of clustering together in warm situations during the fall, and great masses of them destroyed. The clustered bugs can be brushed into a vessel containing oil, or water covered with a thick layer of kerosene or other oil, or swept from the sides of buildings or other objects and crushed. Where they occur on objects not adjacent to living plants, which would not be damaged or marred, they can be sprayed with kerosene, or boiling water or oil can be poured over them.

Spraying these full grown insects with one of the commercial pyrethrum sprays, mixed at about three times the strength recommended by the manufacturer for the control of aphids, should be effective. A 10 per cent kerosene emulsion could also be tried, and is prepared as follows: Dissolve 1/4 pound of laundry soap or soap flakes in 2 quarts of hot water, then churn into this solution, while hot, 1 gallon of kerosene by stirring vigorously. When a creamy emulsion is obtained add 8 1/2 gallons of water. Keep this solution well mixed when applying as a spray. Either of these two sprays could probably be used safely on the trunks of the trees in late summer or early fall when bugs of various sizes are observed wandering up and down the trees, however, the insects would have to be wetted by the spray solution to kill them. If applied to the foliage, these sprays would possibly cause some injury to the leaves.

The young, bright red nymphs, with only partially developed wings, are more susceptible to contact insecticides, and spraying heavily infested trees once or twice in May or early June would be another means of control. A pyrethrum spray, at the strength recommended by the manufacturer for the control of other plant bugs should be fairly effective against the young boxelder bugs at this time and safe to use on the trees. A nicotine sulphate and soap solution, using about one and one-half times the amount of nicotine recommended for aphid control, is sometimes suggested for this purpose, but the results with nicotine sulphate seem to vary considerably. The under sides of the leaves should be covered by the spray since the nymphs occur largely on this surface and the insects must be wet by these sprays or they will not be killed. Poison sprays, such as lead arsenate, would be of no value because this insect feeds entirely by sucking and could not eat the poison.

Where the insects invade houses in considerable numbers it is likely that many of them could be killed by liberal applications of the common household or fly sprays, especially those sprays containing pyrethrum. If the insects are only paralyzed temporarily by these sprays they could be swept up and destroyed before they recover.

The adults of the boxelder bug can be distinguished by their size and color. They are somewhat flattened and elongate, and approximately one-half inch in length. The general color from above is dark brown to black with red markings. The thorax, just back of the head, is marked with three longitudinal, narrow, red lines, one down the center and one along each edge. The basal half of the wings is partly margined with red, and the abdomen under the wings is bright red in color. Before the bugs are full grown the head, thorax, legs and wing pads are dark in color, while the remainder of the body is bright red.

Rules Announced for the "Battle of the Bang-boards"

Rules were announced today for the conduct of the corn husking and plowing contest to be held on the O'Neill farm, Grayslake, on Highway 20 (Belvidere road) at the junction with route 21, Saturday, Oct. 26. The husking contest, otherwise known as the battle of the bang-boards, will be the first one ever held in the history of Lake county.

Things are happening on the O'Neill farm—the fences are being opened into nearby meadows and obstructions are being moved to make room for parking cars. The fields for the plowing and husking contests are being measured up and staked out so that everything will be ready on the day of the colorful event. Even a midway is being laid out, replete with exhibits and food stands.

The corn field has been divided into strips—12 rows cut and 12 rows standing. The 12-row strips of standing corn are for the huskers—six rows each. The strips where the corn has been cut are to accommodate the expected crowds will cheer their favorites in the corn-belt farm sports classic.

Cash Prizes

The contestants will be judged on the amount of corn each man has husked in the allotted time and by the cleanliness of the finished rows.

Awards for both the plowing and husking contests will be in cash. The sponsoring committee today announced a $50 purse for the winner of first place in the husking contest, $25 for second and $15 for third.

All corn and plowing strips will be numbered. Each of the contestants in both the husking and plowing events will draw lots to determine which of the numbered strips he is to work on.

Each plowing contestant will get a strip 75 feet wide divided into two parts. One part, 60 feet wide, is to be back-furrowed. Points are to be awarded for the quality of plowing in that area. The other part, 15 feet wide, is to be plowed with a dead furrow. The dead furrow is the only thing to be judged in that part.

Kutl a Judge
Gilbert Clem, C. L. Kutl and Paul Arndt, instructors in vocational agriculture in Warren township, Antioch and Elia township high schools respectively, will be the plowing judges.

In the corn husking contest, three farmers, Alex Hughes, Antioch; Einar Swanson, Antioch; and Edward Cunningham, Gurnee, will judge.

In scoring the plowing contestants, a maximum of 10 points will be awarded for each of the following items:

1. Straightness of opening furrows.
2. Neatness of back furrow.
3. Evenness of entering and leaving land at headland furrow.
4. Keeping furrow straight at each end of field.
5. Evenness of furrow slices.
6. Evenness of furrow depth.
7. Covering trash.
8. Straightness of furrow wall.
9. Neatness of dead furrow.
10. Finishing plowing job without undue loss of time.

Wendell Willkie

I dedicate myself to three things: One, a united people without class consciousness, distinction or class hatred; Two the rehabilitation of our national economic life; Three, an adequate defense system.

Pressure upon the press is a favorite weapon by which the Administration seeks to silence the opposition—and to the credit of the press, it is generally a futile one.

I call on you to join me, not in a political campaign, but in a great crusade to restore America to its true tradition so that it may stand before the world as a great, united and strong country.

Only of our people, rehabilitation of our economic life, and the building of an adequate defense are indispensable to the preservation of our way of life.

Miss White Appointed on Tuberculosis Council

Miss Orpha L. White, executive secretary of the Lake County Tuberculosis association, has received official notice that she is one of five persons who have been appointed from the State of Illinois to serve on the governing council of the Mississippi Valley Conference on Tuberculosis for the year 1941. The other four members from Illinois are: Dr. D. O. N. Lindberg, Decatur; Dr. W. J. Bryon, Rockford; Dr. Robinson Bosworth, East St. Louis, and W. P. Shahan, Springfield.

There are 12 states in the Mississippi Valley Conference on Tuberculosis, and the other 11 states will have similar representation on this governing council.

The Mississippi Valley Conference on Tuberculosis has its annual meeting in the fall of each year, and in 1941 will be held in Columbus, Ohio. The conference at the annual meeting is made up of representative groups of physicians, nurses, executive secretaries, and lay persons interested in tuberculosis, with speakers and leaders of discussions from outstanding workers in tuberculosis.

The conference consists of reviews of recent research in the cure of tuberculosis among sanatorium groups; the nursing problems both in the sanatorium and in the field work outside of the sanatorium; educational features in case-finding and case work as relative to the control of tuberculosis; and a general review of the problems of the year with helpful suggestions for the advance in the eradication of tuberculosis.

Veteran Shoe Salesman Makes First Visit Here in 53 Years

Not many old friends remained to greet H. A. Rose, retired shoe salesman, when he paid his first return visit in 53 years to Antioch Friday.

Rose, who stopped in at the Antioch News office, was associated with Chicago shoe concerns for 43 years.

He came to the United States from England at the age of 25, and, on arriving at Antioch, he made his home on a little farm near Millburn for a time.

Rose has sold shoes all over the North American continent, and in Africa as well. He now makes his home at 240 North Central avenue, Chicago.

Grayslake Church Has Fiftieth Anniversary

A few of the original members of the parish were present at the fiftieth anniversary celebration held by the Grayslake Congregational church Sunday. They included Lonnie Wicks, Will Smith and C. O. Rich.

Dr. Neil E. Hansen, associate director of the Chicago Congregational union, gave the main address. Visiting clergymen who assisted were the Rev. Arthur Jevne, Ivanhoe; the Rev. Melvin L. Frank, Millburn; the Rev. J. W. F. Davies, Waukegan. Irving Hook represented the Grayslake Episcopal church.

Madame Verobell, retired opera singer residing at Grayslake, was soloist.

Class Play Promises Good Entertainment

If you want to forget for an hour or two the cares of the world, you can do so at the Antioch Junior class play, "Block That Kick," high school students promise.

The play will be staged in Antioch High School auditorium Thursday and Friday evenings, Oct. 31 and Nov. 1, with a different cast each evening. Performances will open at 8:15 o'clock.

As the play opens the good old family custom of singing around the piano is in progress. Of course the modern young people of the family are afraid this is old-fashioned but Grandma likes it, and so does Grandpa. Bob Phillips and Billy White are having difficulties in securing a pair of high shoes with boot straps. Have all the Grandpas gone modern? Jennie Nevelier and Margaret DeBaets playing Mrs. James Saunders are acquiring dignity and poise as a result of turning into a forty-five year old woman, mother of four fine children. Leo Buchta and Edwin Jones, playing the son, Bob Saunders, have trouble in remembering which ankle they should at least be able to limp realistically. The two Grandmas, Sybil Johnson and Lucille Sherman, continue to improve in crocheting. The extra boys, Bob Gross, Jim Roepenack and Jack White get all their rehearsing on the football field, so they will be quite expert in the locker room scene.

A fine new broadcasting system has been installed so "Chuck," played both nights by Ralph Gussarson will have no trouble with squeaks and blurs as he broadcasts the exciting last quarter of the game in which Johnnie, the hero, both nights, in the body and spirit of George Sterbenz, puts over the winning touchdown. Father Saunders continues to grumble and grouch, but his family love him for all that. The girls seem to be very busy matching their gowns with their complexions. Vivian Cosgrave Mildred Dow play Roberta Saunders. The other girls are played by Marcella Buscher, Patricia Decker, Gertrude Horton, Vurla Schmal, Charlotte Moan, and June Harrison, Dorothy Aronson, Dorothy Peters, and Gene Hutchison.

The dates, Thursday, Oct. 31, and Friday, Nov. 1.

The time—8:15.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

Army Preparing for New Recruits; Tension in Balkan States Increases As Britain and Axis Exchange Blows; U. S. Community Chest Drives Open

(EDITOR'S NOTE—When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of the news analyst and not necessarily of this newspaper.)
(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

THE WAR: New Scenes

The Balkans blossomed out as the new critical area in the European struggle. German troops who earlier entered the country to seize the rich oilfields were increased and took over more territory. Ten divisions of Nazi troops, 150,000 men, as well as numerous aircraft, arrived. Neutral sources said the actual goal was Greek and Turkish ports which control access to Asia Minor oil lines.

Turkey and Greece are allied to England as non-belligerents. Turkey also has an alliance with Russia and expected help from the Soviet if the situation came to a showdown. Russia, meanwhile, made a vast military zone of Bessarabia, which it seized early this year from Rumania. Many tacticians believe Russia was ready to oppose Germany in the Balkans, but others were less sanguine. They believe Russia already is outflanked in that theater.

A drive to Greece and Turkey also would give the Axis powers a base on which to move toward Suez from another angle, causing a pincer movement with the Italians moving east along the Egyptian coast.

Africa still was a gem for conquest. Gen. Charles de Gaulle, leader of the "Free France" forces, based himself at Duala, in the Cameroons, in tropical West Africa. His arrival coincided with a reception at Dakar for Gen. Maxime Weygand, representative of the Vichy forces. Neutral sailors escaping from Dakar reported the Senegal sector had been taken over by German authorities. Washington looked at the news apprehensively. Officials there believe the Germans soon may use that air base for commercial flights to South America.

Air War

Over England, France, Belgium, Netherlands and Germany furious air battles continued. The fight always was "the same as yesterday—but more violent." Each side daily stepped up bombings of enemy territory. The great St. Paul's cathedral in London was damaged. Many died each night under the debris of stores and apartments. The Germans used a new bomb, combination explosive and incendiary.

Berlin, like London, while able to deliver tremendous blows on its op-day other British warships claimed to have sunk the third Italian ship. The British said they also had learned through neutral sources that two Nazi transports had been sunk by RAF planes in the French harbor of Lorient. Three thousand Germans were reported drowned.

Burma Road

Britain opened the road through Burma to Nationalistic China, closed three months earlier in an attempt to appease Japan. Japanese since then have invaded Indo-China and established bases within easy raiding distance of the road and its stations. The British and Chinese had landed thousands of American trucks in Burma to aid transportation of munitions to Gen. Chiang Kai-shek.

The situation yet may bring Japan and the British into open conflict and the resulting snarl easily can involve American interests. Indo-China and the outlying Dutch East Indies are the chief sources of America's supply of rubber and tin.

THE ARMY: Awaiting Recruits

While men between the ages of 21 and 35 wondered which 700,000 of them would be first called into camp under the selective service act, the army was pushing with every degree of speed the preparations for their reception. There still were indications many would not be ordered to report to camps on the date originally set, November 15. Barracks, kitchens and sanitation facilities had not been completed in many camps and until these are in operating order, many summoned may be sent to southern stations where they will be able to live under canvas, to begin their toughening up process.

Senator Rush Dene Holt of West Virginia, who voted against the draft, displays his selective service registration certificate indicating that despite his opposition he complied with the law. Although he is 35 years old, he is exempt from service as he is a member of Congress.

In three months time the average soldier is expected to be able to carry pack and equipment weighing 54 pounds and 8 ounces on a 20-mile hike. This consists of a rifle and bayonet, weighing 10 pounds; 8 ounces; helmet of 2 pounds, mess-kit, 1 pound; raincoat, 2 pounds, 4 ounces; half tent, 2 pounds, 8 ounces; blankets, 4 pounds; haversack, 2 pounds, 8 ounces; trench tools, 2 pounds; toilet articles, 1 pound, 5 ounces; canteen and cup, 3 pounds, 8 ounces; clothing, 10 pounds, 8 ounces; first-aid kit, 4 ounces; gas mask, 5 pounds; cartridges and belt, 6 pounds.

Dr. Clarence A. Dykstra, former city manager of Cincinnati, has been named head of the draft administration by President Roosevelt. His salary will be $10,000 a year, which is half of what he received in Cincinnati, and $5,000 less than he was getting as president of the University of Wisconsin. He has a leave of absence from the school.

President Roosevelt will pick the first numbers from the "goldfish bowl" indicating which men will be called first. He will be blindfolded by Col. Charles Morris of Elizabeth, N. J., the same man who blindfolded President Wilson for the same job in 1917.

LOOKING AHEAD: Coming Events

Movies—The motion picture industry is expected in the near future to announce another prize campaign somewhat like last year's "Movies Are Your Best Entertainment" drive.

Power—The Aluminum Corporation of America is erecting three new units to its Bonneville, Wash., plant and will increase production by 90,000,000 pounds per year. It is expected the 1942 production will be 700,000,000 pounds, compared to 325,000,000 in 1939. The defense commission said the corporation would buy 100,000 additional kilowatts of power from the Bonneville authority.

Expansion—The General Electric company will spend $50,000,000 in the next 15 months to enlarge seven of its major plants.

Youngest Senator

Joseph H. Ball, Minnesota newspaperman, just appointed to the Senate of United States to succeed the late Senator Ernest Lundeen of that state, will be the youngest member of that body when he takes his desk in Washington. He is 34 years old and delayed his trip to Washington so that he might register for the draft.

FUND RAISING: President Speaks

Community Chests in thousands of communities taking part in the 1940 Mobilization for Human Needs opened their drives for funds. The first gun fired was a speech from the White House by President Roosevelt. "The ancient injunction to love thy neighbor as thyself," the President said, "is still the force that animates our faith—a faith that we are determined shall live and conquer in a world poisoned by hatred and ravaged by war."

WASHINGTON: Defense

The capital is filled with rumors of impending changes in the defense commission setup following the election. One rumor has it that if Roosevelt wins, he will offer Wendell L. Willkie, his Republican opponent, the position of commission chairman.

A more likely routine is that William A. Knudsen will be elevated to the position of "chief of staff" and that Donald T. Nelson, former Sears Roebuck executive expert, will be "co-ordinator" between the commission's several divisions.

Secrets

Leaks in information supplied by the army to congressmen has irked defense officials. It was indicated there will be a general tightening up. Two recent events were the final straws. First, members of the house appropriations committee made public details of an airport program that the army was guarding and asked be kept secret. Then Rep. Van Zandt (R., Pa.) made an array of figures of arms equipment, although Chief of Staff Marshall was said to have requested the tables be treated as confidential.

Otherwise on the Washington front: Secretary of State Hull made public denial of rumors that he would resign.

American diplomatic missions in Rome and Berlin were ordered home in what was described as a personnel shift.

Rumanian, owned funds and securities totaling $100,000,000 were "frozen" in U. S. banks during the Balkan disturbances.

LABOR: New Regulations

With the federal law reducing the maximum hours of labor from 42 to 40 now in effect, Federal Administrator Philip B. Fleming announced regulations exempting thousands of "white collar" workers from the provisions. To these the law will not require that overtime wages be paid. Overtime for all others will be time and one-half time.

The regulations are the result of months of study and hearings by the wage-hour division. They decided that an executive is one whose duty consists of management of an enterprise of "sub-division" at a salary of at least $30 a week. He also must have the power to hire or fire.

MISCELLANY:

Col. Fulgencio Batista, once an obscure army sergeant, was inaugurated president of Cuba. For years he was the strong man back of a long line of presidents. Batista decided he could better carry out his program from the presidential palace. He was elected in July. Of peasant stock, Batista wants education for the illiterate thousands. He has built schools, laid out an agricultural program and advanced public health.

Tom Mix, star of stage, screen and radio, answered the call of the last roundup. The world-famous cowboy was killed in an automobile accident near Florence, Ariz. Mix was not only a movie style cowhand. He won national riding and roping honors in 1909 and 1910.

A billion candlepower flashlight "bulb" attached to a camera was demonstrated at Rochester, N. Y., by Maj. G. W. Goddard, of the army. Flying 5,000 feet over the city, he was able to illuminate a five-mile area for a picture "with the light of day."

A suit in McHenry county that is attracting considerable interest is that of the State of Illinois vs. the Knickerbocker Ice company, which involves title to Crystal Lake, the most popular and prosperous resort in McHenry county, by reason of the use of the lake for boating, fishing and bathing purposes.

The ice company published notice over a year ago warning all persons to keep off the lake and commenced to erect a high woven wire fence to surround the lake and exclude the public. The company claims title to the lake by reason of its having been sold by the land commissioners years ago as swamp land.

WOMEN

... in the news

Birthday—Five days in advance of her fifty-sixth anniversary, Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt celebrated her birthday. There was a family dinner with birthday cake. On the cake, following a Roosevelt custom, were 21 candles. No one in the Roosevelt family ever has admitted to be more than 21 years old.

Boom! Boom!

He Stands for Peace

This is how Wendell Willkie, Republican candidate for president, looked in 1917 when he volunteered for service as a private in the army one month after the United States declared war. After four months of intensive training he was commissioned a lieutenant, then spent a year in training camps in this country and served several months under fire in France.

Having first-hand knowledge of the horrors of war, Mr. Willkie has made this solemn pledge to the American people:

"If you elect me president I give you my word of honor I will never send an American boy to the shambles of the trenches of a European war."

More Jobs, Less Taxes
Is Willkie's Pledge

"It is absolutely impossible," Wendell Willkie, Republican candidate for president, declares, "for a government to go on supporting a growing number of unemployed. Somebody has to pay the bill. And that bill is going to be paid by those who have jobs."

"The average income per individual in the United States last year was only $540. The average tax paid per individual was $110. One-fifth of our national income goes for taxes. And the biggest item on the tax bill, aside from defense, is relief for the unemployed. Taxes don't anywhere near cover it. So the New Deal borrows the money."

"In seven and one-half years it has borrowed $22,000,000,000. This can't go on indefinitely. The one and only remedy for this increasing public debt is jobs."

"Now what makes jobs? Business makes jobs. Little business, big business, corporations, partnerships and small companies. Under our system if we are going to have jobs we have got to have employment. Measured by the standard of our growth (1900 to 1929) we are short about 700,000 enterprises, short 700,000 employers."

"The New Deal has helped make unemployment by picking on business. Under the New Deal the employer who puts up money to make a profit has been in the dog-house. I am not interested in profits as such. I am not interested in employers as such. But I am interested in both employers and profits as a means of making jobs for those who are unemployed, better jobs for those employed."

On High Authority

A Democratic candidate for President, in an address delivered in New York on Nov. 3, 1932, said something which can hardly be improved upon as an answer to the New Deal's prize argument for the third term. "A great man," he declared, "left a watchword that we can well repeat — 'There is no indispensable man.' The 'great man' referred to was Woodrow Wilson and the speaker was Franklin D. Roosevelt!"

Keep Out of War
Is Vital IssueU. S. Voters Must Make Important Decision
Nov. 5th.

"The number one issue in this campaign is to keep our country out of war," is the opinion expressed by Raymond A. Moley, former new dealer, confidante and intimate adviser of President Roosevelt, who is now an ardent supporter of Wendell Willkie for president.

"I am for Willkie because I believe he will conduct our foreign relations better than Roosevelt has or will," declared Mr. Moley, who considers the number two issue of the campaign to be "to save our country from becoming an autocracy, which it will be if President Roosevelt is elected to a third term."

General Robert E. Wood, soldier and business man who was responsible for supplying the entire military establishment of the United States during the World War, addressing the Chicago Council on Foreign Relations declared that "the present policy of the Roosevelt administration is bound to involve the United States in war. You cannot play with fire and not get burned. You cannot have your government — not private manufacturers — transfer its equipment to foreign powers; you cannot have your government in an unofficial alliance with a foreign power; you cannot be a meddler in Indo-China, or berate Italy and Germany, without eventually involving the nation in war."

"I believe that a majority of the people who are advocating 'aid short of war' do not desire us to enter the war," General Wood declared, "but there are others who do desire us to enter the war, who are taking the necessary steps to prepare the American people for participation, who would enter the war tomorrow if they dared, who are today in practical alliance with England, and unfortunately they are the people who are shaping our national policy today. You hear men — and men who ought to know — that we will actively enter the war within 60 days after the election."

"We are being edged into the war without the masses' knowledge. If the United States enters the war it would start with a debt of 50 billions and the cost of the war will mean an ultimate debt of 100 to 150 billions and will end with great economic dislocations. It is up to the American people to decide whether they want to make these sacrifices to preserve not England, but the British empire, and help regulate Europe and Asia. But they should make the decision with all the cards on the table, not misled by artifice and subterfuge."

Farmers Hit by New Deal Trade Treaties

As of November 1, 1939, under the New Deal's Trade Treaty program, American import tariffs have been reduced on 1,003 commodities, of which 397 were reduced by 41 to 50 per cent. All reductions made in the various trade agreements have averaged 39 per cent below the rates fixed by Congress in the Tariff Act of 1930. Yet — duties on 152 agricultural products have been reduced and 95 of these were reduced from 41 to 50 per cent. From the fiscal year 1932 through 1939 total value of American imports increased 20.2 per cent. Non-agricultural imports have increased only 20.5 per cent, while competitive agricultural imports — agricultural products which compete with the American farmer — increased 29.6 per cent during the same seven years. Imports of non-competitive agricultural products, however, increased only 11.8 per cent.

How THE DAVIDSONS
LICKED
THE 4 BIG JOBS
— WITH GAS!

"Things weren't always so pleasant for us, no siren. For between our furnace and cooking cares, and our hot water and refrigeration problems, we had 4 big jobs staring us in the face every day... all day. But that's all past,

now. The way Gas has licked those 4 big jobs is nothing short of a miracle.

Millions of smart folks are getting wise — they let gas do the 4 big jobs... automatically and inexpensively."

1 GAS FOR WATER HEATING

"No more waiting, watching or disappointments now that we've got an automatic gas water heater. Just a turn of a faucet gives us plenty of piping hot water — instantly. Always ready, day or night, for a hundred and one household uses."

2 GAS FOR HOUSE HEATING

"We've said goodbye to furnace cares... thanks to clean, carefree Gas Heat. No more shoveling or worry — no ashes to haul — no soot or dirt. We fire the furnace from the easy chair by merely adjusting a thermostat on the wall."

3 GAS FOR
REFRIGERATION

"There's never a peep from our handsome, silent Gas refrigerator. And no wonder, for it hasn't any moving parts to wear or make a noise. That means longer life and extra savings, too!"

COOKING

"We took one look at a modern C/P Gas Range and it almost won us on its looks alone. But when we discovered how it saved time, fuel and food, how it cooked foods better, faster, easier... then we knew that was the range we wanted."

Resident of U. S. 55 Years, Antioch Woman Finds She's "Alien"

In the days before women were granted the vote many of them didn't do much worrying about their "citizenship rights"—and that is how Miss Elen Ivers, 75, and a resident of the United States for 55 years, came to be one of the oldest—if not THE oldest—persons in the Antioch area to be fingerprinted and registered as an "alien" recently.

Miss Ivers, an aunt of John Doyle, and a resident of the Doyle home at Channel lake, has always looked upon herself as a citizen of her adopted country, and like many people didn't give much thought to the matter until the "alien registry" question came up. "Dear me, hope nobody thinks I'm going to be a Fifth Columnist," she sighs.

Although she has been troubled with failing eyesight of recent years Miss Ivers enjoys good health and finds pleasure in assisting with household duties in the Doyle home.

Over 5,000 Visitors See "Home of the Year" Built by Barrington Lions

Over 5,000 visitors, representing almost every community in northeastern Illinois, as well as 18 other states, have inspected Barrington's "house of the year" sponsored by the Barrington Lions club, in the few weeks it has been open. The home is located in beautiful Jewel Park in one of the most desirable spots in suburban Chicago.

The Barrington Lions club has invested $12,000 in its six-room model home. The residence is of early American style built in autumn brick. The kitchen is fully equipped with cabinets and linoleum covered counters. The carpeting and window treatments are furnished with the house. The heating system is forced warm air type with gas-fired unit, and hot running water is furnished by automatic water heater.

Among Antioch residents who have visited the "house of the year" are: R. J. Webb, John and Marie Nelson, L. Duntzman, Mrs. W. Breese and Mrs. J. McMahon.

National Debt Worries Farmers

Prominent Farmer Says Debt And Third Term Are Big Issues.

The national debt is the big political issue among farmers according to Simon E. Lantz, nationally known breeder of purebred cattle at Congerville, Ill., and president of the Aberdeen-Angus Breeders' Association.

"Some people say that since Wendell Willkie has endorsed the principles of the New Deal farm program that there is no issue between the two presidential candidates so far as the farmer is concerned," said Mr. Lantz. "Most farmers know better. They know that on the debt and on the third term the cleavage between the two candidates is fundamental."

"Mr. Roosevelt, when elected in 1932, charged previous administrations with extravagance and pledged himself to a program of economy. What has happened? In the first three years of his administration the New Deal spent as much as the first twenty-four presidents combined had spent in the first 122 years of this government's life, and during that time we had several wars to finance."

"Mr. Roosevelt promised to place the cost of government upon the shoulders of those most able to pay. In 1930, the wealth of the nation was paying 69 per cent of government costs and the laborers, farmers and common people were paying 31 per cent. But last year we found that the wealth of the nation was paying only 39 per cent while the ordinary people were paying 61 per cent. That is how Mr. Roosevelt took care of the forgotten man and soaked the rich."

"It is beginning to come home to farmers that they are paying a large share of the waste of money in the Roosevelt administration, just as is everyone else. They are paying in the form of hidden taxes. For instance, on grains, there is a hidden tax of three cents on every loaf of bread. On a $4.00 pair of shoes it is 70 cents."

"On large items which the farmer must buy the tax cost is tremendous. Deere & Co., manufacturer of farm implements, was compelled to pay almost $600 per man in taxes in 1939 for every man they employed."

"The wastage and extravagance of the Roosevelt administration has placed in hock twenty-five out of every 160 acres of farm land in the entire United States."

"I find farmers much attracted by the statement of Wendell Willkie that he will make no changes in the present farm program except to improve it, that he will return the ten million unemployed to the payrolls and thus increase the purchasing power of the farmer's market, and that he will conduct the national defense program and the ordinary business of government on a business-like basis."

"With the wastage of the Roosevelt administration in mind and the threat of perpetuation of power through the third term, farmers are finding there actually are fundamental issues in the present campaign."

WILLKIE YOUTH VIVIDLY SHOWN BY HIS SISTER

ST. CATHERINE'S, Ontario.—Julia Willkie, older sister of Wendell Willkie, has been a resident of this town for several years. She is unmarried and has a good job as an industrial chemist here. In an interview today, she discussed the old days in Elwood.

"I think Wendell was the job of President," she said. "I say this because the boy is father to the man, and I have known both the boy and the man. More than most of us, Wendell reflects his ancestors, his parents, his home and his home town."

"Ours was a working family, back in Elwood. From our earliest days father urged us to work. He taught us it was honest to one's self and dignified and really fun to work. When Wendell was 9 years old, he was a newspaper boy, and covered his route after school. He delivered the Elwood Daily Record and the Elwood Call-Leader."

"Wendell's first regular job, when he was 13, was driving a bread wagon. This he did evenings and Saturdays. His customers were farmers, and he utilized his job to learn all he could about land, livestock and farm problems. His salary was $3 a week paid in cartwheel collars."

"A few years later he and Brother Fred formed the Willkie Distributing Co., which distributed handbills, circulars, cards and samples about town. The little business prospered over a considerable period."

"But Father was especially anxious to have the boys work among strangers. He told them to explore the country and find jobs for themselves. Every summer he would give them carfare to some distant point and a few dollars extra for job-hunting expenses."

"During these years, Wendell pitched hay in Wyoming, helped harvest wheat in Kansas, worked on fruit for an Indiana wholesaler, had a job as a laborer in a Colorado beet sugar factory, was a Barker for a circus in South Dakota."

"After Wendell graduated from college and before he went to law school, he worked a few years at various jobs. He taught school in Texas and became actively interested in boys' organization work. He obtained a position as a chemist in Porto Rico with the Fajardo Sugar Co. and worked there a year. Then he returned to Indiana University for his law course. He practiced law in Father's office for a year, until he and Brother Bob enlisted as privates, the first men from Elwood to go to war. After he was demobilized in France, he came back and worked on the legal staff of the Firestone Tire Co."

"Wendell is the most honest person I ever met. There isn't an ounce of pose or affectation in him. I think people instinctively recognize that quality in him. Ever since his earliest days, he has had a tremendous drive and a petus to conquer the task before him."

Halloween Party Held by Recreation Department

Everyone present at the Halloween party held Monday by the Antioch Recreation department insisted on taking part in every game and contest. Many of the sixty-five children, who were costumed for the occasion, received tickets for their rewards in the various games to present to Raja Abuhama. Many of the costumes were outstanding in their originality. Mary Jean Mapleshorpe was "chief ghost and spirit" with her bag of apples.

The time passed so fast that after the ice cream and cake was served it was too late to consult the Raja. However, at a time in the near future these tickets will be honored.

Mrs. Lou Jarnigo, Mrs. S. H. Ries and Mrs. Walter Hieber were responsible for all the home-made cookies and doughnuts.

Lyle Techert and Fred Techert assisted recreation leaders in staging the affair.

Yep, It's Mild Autumn; Kuhaupt Picks Raspberries

Just to show that the weather really is mild this autumn, and it's nobody's imagination, George Kuhaupt reports that he picked a quart of red raspberries in the garden at his home on Park avenue Sunday. The previous Sunday he also garnered a quart of the fruit.

Pumpkin pie and other Halloween fare may be on the menu for other folks these days, but for the Kuhaupts it's raspberries and cream.
